Wellesley--

Wildflower Camp Foundation, a Wellesley-based organization that offers camp scholarship assistance and emotional support to children who have experienced the loss of a parent, will be hosting a benefit concert headlined by multi-platinum recording artist Edwin McCain. The event will be held on April 11 at 7:30 p.m. at The Center for Arts in Natick.

A 20-year singer-songwriter, McCain will be performing international hits “I’ll Be” and “I Could Not Ask For More” alongside songs from his recently launched album Mercury Bound. Local singer-songwriter Kayla Ringelheim will be opening for McCain and performing songs from her third critically acclaimed album “Wandering Feet.”

VIP concert tickets are available for $250 and include best available seating, an exclusive thank-you gift, and a pre-show reception followed by a post-concert meet-and-greet with McCain. Reserved admission concert tickets are available for $100 and feature a post-concert meet-and-greet with McCain. All proceeds benefit the Wildflower Camp Foundation.
